SHOCKED BY LIGHTNING.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGovern Rendered Senseless for 30 Minutes.

TOOK REFUGE IN BARN.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. John McGovern, of Victoria, were shocked by lightning, while taking refuge in a barn. They were enroute to "squire T. N. Bates, when the storm came up about 1 p. m. They went into a barn for protection. As soon as they had entered the house was struck by lightning. Both fell senseless to the ground. Mr. McGovern falling face downward upon the seat of an old hay rake, severely cutting and bruising himself about the face. Both were unconscious for twenty or thirty minutes. After a hard effort Mrs. McGovern was able to partly regain herself. She found the face of her husband covered with blood and badly cut up, he being still unconscious. She wiped the blood from her husband's face and then crawled to the house, sixty yards distance, to get aid.

While Mrs. McGovern was away, Mr. McGovern became conscious. His brothers, on their way from church, heard him and went to his aid.

Dr. Howard of Mattingly, dressed Mr. McGovern's wounds which are very painful but not serious.

My Hair Ran Away

Don't have a falling out with your hair. It might leave you! Then what? That would mean thin, scraggly, uneven, rough hair. Keep your hair at home! Fasten it tightly to your scalp! You can easily do it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is something more than a simple hair dressing. It is a hair medicine, a hair tonic, a hair food.

OFFICER ROBBINS SHOT AT OWENSBORO.

Former Breckenridge Citizen

Shot by Negro-Trouble Is Brewing.

Owensboro Ky., June 25.—The negro who shot Officer W. H. Robbins has not yet been caught, but poses as a courier for the country for him. The entire male population of both the city and country are indignant over the shooting. Citizens and farmers are searching for the fugitive with guns. The police of this city are making strenuous effort to capture the negro. None of the police is taking his hours off, but all are working in squads into the country searching for the negro. If captured the indications are that Baskett, with other disorderly negroes, will be lynched. Baskett is one of the same negroes who helped kill Officer White ten years ago. Reports have come in from the country that the negro was seen going toward the river, heavily armed. When last seen he carried one shot gun, a Winchester rifle and revolver.

He stated to relatives with whom he stopped to get his wounded arm dressed that he would not be taken alive. Sunday night he went into a drug store at Stanley and bought some medicine for his arm. The druggist was afraid to arrest him. The feeling is as hot today as it was Sunday, and large crowds are gathering on the street corners discussing the shooting in heated terms.

There is report that the negroes will try to protect Baskett in case he is brought back. If they do riot will be the result.

Officer Robbins, who was shot, is resting easy today. The doctor says that it will be necessary to amputate his arm. The wound in the side is not likely to prove fatal.

Trying To Make It

A Blue Law.

Magistrate Hoffman, of Louisville, is trying to make a blue law out of the Sunday closing law. The square is issuing warrants right and left against drug store proprietors who keep their stores open on Sunday, and Hoffman says he will go after the church choir boys, coachmen, newspapers and any other whom he deems Sunday law breakers.

Gov. Beckham, however, will intervene and, in case any one is convicted unguilty, will pardon them.

It is stated that if Magistrate Hoffman carries out his plans, the real purpose of the Sunday closing law will be defeated, and the good already done will be overturned.

"Cut Loose And Build The Canal."

Washington, June 21.—"Cut loose now and build the canal. The American people want results on the isthmus as soon as they can be obtained, and I want them Dig, dig. Congress and the people are behind us in our efforts."

Within forty-eight hours after the completion of the Panama canal legislation President Roosevelt issued in effect the above order to Chairman Shonts and Chief Engineer Stevens.

The President expressed both his great gratification at the action of the United States Senate in supporting his plan for the construction of a lock canal. He has been convinced for several days that the lock type of canal would be adopted by the Senate on its final vote, notwithstanding the report of the majority of the Inter-oceanic Canal Committee in favor of a sea level waterway.

A careful canvass of the Senate was made and he was assured that there would be a safe majority in favor of the lock type, which he has advocated ever since the report of the engineers' commission was received.

Two days ago the President figured a majority of five in favor of the lock type and that is precisely the majority received in the test vote.

For Congress.
HON. BEN JOHNSON

Our friend, Mr. Dodson of Fymore, is under a very wrong impression as to the standing of Ben Johnson on the whiskey question. Mr. Dodson, while accusing Johnson of being a whiskey man, may in his own light be sincere in his charge, but we regret to say that Mr. Dodson knows not whereof he speaks when he accuses Ben Johnson of standing for or supporting the interests of whiskey. It is true that Johnson tried to defeat the rectifier tax passed by the last General Assembly but he did this not because he favored the whiskey man, not because he desired to promote the traffic in anyway but because he saw nothing in the rectifier's tax but loss to the state. The question of temperance did not come up on either side in the presidency of the rectifier's tax. It was merely a matter of revenue for the state. Those who favored the tax thought, no doubt, that more money would fall to the state by levying a rectifier's tax than the old way, those who opposed the tax believed the old way the better source of revenue. The moving of several large rectifiers from Kentucky justified Mr. Johnson in his stand. Ben Johnson stood for the county Unit bill and for the bill prohibiting the shipment of whiskey into local option districts is evidence of his views about the liquor business. As for himself he has voted for local option all of his life and has never taken a drink of whiskey. In view of these things it seems to us it would be better for Mr. Dodson to uphold Ben Johnson rather than try to down him on a pretense of Johnson being in league with the whiskey interests.

Our correspondents will please favor us by mailing their letters so that they will reach this office next Monday morning. We want to take the Fourth off.

How to Break Up a Cold.
It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days' time. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, loud cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose, and a thin, white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's cough remedy is taken every hour on the first of these symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. Provision Inspecting American Meats Tackled on Agricultural Bill.

GUY ELLIOTT MITCHELL

Senator Beveridge presented a radical amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill the other day which was passed promptly. Back of the case and efficacy with which this action was accomplished is a story. It is an interesting one too, for it shows the President for once, at least, was able to hold the big stick over the Senate, and the great packing interests and forced the amendment with the law in its hand.

THE ORIGINAL SWIFT MEAT-PACKING PLANT, CHICAGO.

Insufficient appropriation for foreign inspection, a number of large packing houses concerned voluntarily offered to defray the cost involved. CONSUMER PAYS COST ANYWAY. It is stated that, of course, the packing house people, otherwise the best thing, will pass the cost of the inspection along to the consumer; but it is only money about 5 or 6 cents a head on each carcass the increase will not be appreciable in the individual beef steels, at least it ought not to be, but the combination of packers, dealers, wholesalers, retailers, etc., will doubtless make an excuse for putting up meat at least a cent a pound, and thus make an investment of many hundred per cent. of the amount which they pay for the Government inspection.

HOW THE TROUBLE BEGAN. Some time ago Upton Sinclair published "The Jungle." It was a novel and horrible. It showed that the inspection service at the Chicago packing houses was wholly inadequate. It was proved that the Government inspectors passed on the conditions of the carcasses when the animals were killed; but after that there were no inspections and the conditions were "incredibly revolting." President Roosevelt read the book and is stated to have been outraged at the statements made. Were they true or were they exaggerated? He made some inquiry and found that the statements were all well founded. Then he was genuinely angry. Secretary Wilson sent a commission out to look into the conditions of affairs, but the President was apparently not satisfied with the Government commission, so he sent his close personal friend, Mr. J. B. Reynolds, a prominent social worker and a man of means, and Mr. Charles F. Neill, the United States Commissioner of Labor, on a purely personal inspection tour. The expenses of the two investigators were paid by the Government, but the men received no salaries and the inquiry was in a way, unofficial.

There has never yet been any written report made public from these two investigators; likely there will not be; but the President knows all they found out, and the packers know it too. Both the President and the packers were horrified; the reasons were different. The story around the Capitol regarding this investigation said, "If this sort of a story gets out it will ruin our business abroad." The President remarked offhandedly, "If I think I know gets out, it will ruin your business at home too."

"Now," said the packers, "make any sort of an inspection law you want, pass it and we will stand for it, and promise to be good in the future, but do not make a public scandal of this matter." FOR A STRICT INSPECTION LAW. The President is reported to have indicated that he would like to see the inspection law passed with the following provisions: "If the packers, however, refuse to be good in the future, they will be dealt with as they deserve."

CAUSED PACKERS' PLIGHT. Interview with Author of the New Famous "Jungle" - Exposed of Meat Packing Methods. Upton Sinclair, the author of the "Jungle" which has in reality started the great packing house scandal, is an advocate of municipal slaughterhouses. He believes that this is the only effective solution of the problem, although he says that the Beveridge amendment is good so far as it goes. Interviewed recently, he said, "There is no doubt that this amendment will become a law; but a few months after its enactment it will be forgotten and former conditions will be resumed. Under former conditions, because the Chicago packers have cleaned up house and are now able to make a show of virtue which they never passed, but it is impossible for them to conceal the fact that - say have sent out millions of cans of 'rotted chicken' made of bob, or day-old veal, millions of cans of roast beef made of cow udders and gristle, and that all this vast output has been treated with chemicals to conceal putrefaction and to preserve the stuff sold under a false name."

GOVERNMENT SLAUGHTER HOUSES IN EUROPE.

"Every slaughter house in Germany, and Belgium is owned by the government. There is no chance to graft, because the slaughter of cattle and the sale of meat is distinct and separate. The government kills for anybody, and charges so much a head, that the packers cannot get in touch with an animal and subjected to a microscopic examination. If the meat is unwholesome, it is sold for dog food. The slaughter houses are as clean as modern hospitals, and not to be compared with the filthy slumbers we endure here."

ANSWERING A HOWL.

"As an additional precaution against graft, it is provided that the loss incurred on condemnation shall fall on the government or seller of the carcass and not to the buyer. This compels the cattle breeder to care for his stock and to regulate an sanitary manner. That answers the violent protests of the Western cattlemen, who were forced by the beef trust to inundate President Roosevelt with telegrams of objection to the Beveridge bill, until it was discovered that the making public of the Reynolds-Neill report would cause damage to the business of the cunning dyed bob veal and selling it as chicken."

"The opposition to the bill was not because the packers feared it would interfere with their fraudulent practices, but because it would impose upon them a tax of $2,000,000 a year, to pay for the inspection, which is nothing more or less than advertisement for their bogus goods in foreign countries."

MR. SINCLAIR'S SOLUTION.

"Every city in the United States should have municipal slaughterhouses. All private slaughterhouses should be abolished. The result of such a condition would be to break the power of the packers' trust. The would have to sell out at the cost of the slaughter houses fit for the killing of food animals, and destroy those that are unfit. This is the only solution of the problem, which is of great importance to the people of this country, and the only way that public opinion can be brought to bear to permit the commissioners appointed by President Roosevelt to make public the report of the horrors they found in the lead center of the great depot of reception and distribution in Chicago."

"The packers know that their very life depends upon the approval of foreign nations, and they know that the stamp of governmental approval is essential to the success of their exports of excellence. They know that the millions in Europe understand official inspection, and they know that the unsatisfactory guarantee and their regard official endorsement by agents of the United States government in the same light and with the same confidence."

POINTS OF BEVERIDGE MEAT INSPECTION BILL.

Provides for rigid postmortem inspection of all cattle, swine, sheep, and goats killed for human consumption. All meats found unwholesome shall be tagged, and all meat found unwholesome shall be destroyed. All slaughterers, packers and all others engaged in preparation of meat products must admit inspectors to all parts of their establishments. All canning, rendering, salting, and packing products are included, and any products treated with dye or deleterious chemicals or preservatives shall be condemned.

All establishments must be maintained in a sanitary manner, according to rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture. After January 1, 1907, no railroad or any other common carrier can transport any meat product not inspected or passed, and no ship with such articles on board shall be given clearance papers, nor can any common carrier transport any meat product unless it is accompanied by an establishment where specified sanitary conditions do not prevail.

All cans, potted, or canned meat products shall be labeled as inspected and passed and shall not be offered for sale until so labeled.

Signals on Rural Mail Boxes.

The Fourth Assistant Postmaster General has issued an order providing that after July 1, next, rural delivery carriers, when making their trips, will visit and examine only those boxes for which they have mail for delivery and those which the signals are displayed to indicate that there is mail for dispatch.

The patrons who are now maintaining mail boxes on which there are no signals will be required to procure some sort of device which will serve as a signal to carriers.

By this new arrangement it is expected that the delivery and collection of mail along rural free delivery routes will be greatly facilitated.

WHY DOES PAINT PEEL OFF?

Some will tell you there is no good paint any more. Others that there are no good painters. Both statements are incorrect. The trouble is, years ago you could scarcely go wrong in painting, for there was little paint used but pure white lead and oil. Nowadays there are almost as many alleged "paints" as there are rival dealers to sell them, and as many so-called white leads which are not white lead, as there are proprietary paints.

Yet good white lead and linseed oil paint is as good as it ever was—and better. If you are in real earnest about getting paint which will look well and last—the good old kind of other days—let us tell you about our pure white lead.

of aroused public indignation will likely force its publication. Indeed, the amount of damage and disrepute details which are being made known by the press from information given by various people who are in a position to know the facts, would seem to indicate that but little additional damage to anybody could be accomplished through the publication of the report.

Commenting on the question of the constitutionality of the amendment it should become a law, in that it interferes with state rights, a prominent government official remarked that in any event the packers could be forced to terms. They are very anxious over their great foreign meat trade and this is largely dependent upon Government inspection of carcasses. Abroad the Government inspection tag is looked upon as a guarantee, and without it a foreign meat trade would suffer immensely. Should the packers refuse to allow the Government to inspect food for home consumption, the Government could in its turn refuse to inspect meats for export.

NEILL REPORT PUBLISHED.

After some consideration of the wisdom of publishing the Neill report and yielding to the public clamor of all sections of the country for a knowledge of its contents, the President sent a message to Congress transmitting it for the consideration of the national legislature. The report, as told by the Neill report shows revolting conditions in a number of the packing houses and in many cases upholds all of the stories told in the "Jungle" novel. The Neill commission did not consider affidavits of witnesses to any great extent in arriving at its conclusions, but paid more attention rather to conditions as witnessed by the three members of the committee. The message of President Roosevelt that submitted the report characterized the conditions found by the investigators as "revolting" and "disgraceful."

The so-called Beveridge amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill threatens to destroy the foreign business of the packers should Congress fail to provide for federal inspection of meats at all stages of preparation. In the event of such failure, the President says that he will be "compelled to order that inspection labels and certificates on canned products shall not be used hereafter." Without these labels the products will be excluded from European markets.

One on the Professor. Prof. Barrett Wendell, of Harvard, lectured with an anecdotal English lecture.

"There was a certain lecturer," he said, "who was always impressing upon his students the need of perspicuity. One day after day in the lecture hall to get back an essay that had been submitted."

"A very good essay," said the instructor, as he returned the paper, "but Mr. Smith, you should be 'rite' as to be used hereafter."

The young man looked up anxiously and said, "What part of my essay was not clear to you, professor?" he asked.

"SWEEPING OPINION."

License Required to Sell Cheese, Crackers, Sausage, Etc., Says Attorney General.

County Clerk F. G. Corley has just received a letter from N. B. Hays, Attorney General of the state, holding that a license is necessary for merchants to sell eatables in the form of lunches. The letter is in the following language: "We are of opinion that any one who sells cheese, crackers, sausages, and the like to the public as eatables or as meals comes within the provisions of the law as one keeping a restaurant, and is liable for the tax provided under the revenue law. We are also of opinion that a license to sell soft drinks is only for the county in which such license is issued and not elsewhere." The opinion is sweeping in its nature, and will affect numerous merchants over the country who sell cheese, crackers, etc., to be eaten as lunches.

The license fee is $5 plus $100, the clerk's cost of issuing.

ROUTE OF NEW RAILROAD.

Since the letting of the contract for the construction of the Madisonville, Hartford & Eastern railroad, considerable curiosity has been aroused as to the exact route of the new road. The following from the Hartford Herald of Wednesday gives the desired information:

Starting at Madisonville the road will pass near Anton, in Hopkins county. It will pass between Sacramento and Bremen in Muhlenberg county, coming within about a mile of the latter place. It will cross the U. & N. railroad at Hendricks and Green river at Smallhouse. From Centertown it will come on to Hartford. The Hartford depot will be located, it is said, on the southeast end of Liberty street, and near what is known as the Massie residence. It will be a handsome edifice.

Going east the road will cross the Beaver Dam road near G. W. Banger's, coming within a few feet of a corner of his shop. It will take a north-easterly direction at Hartford, passing to the right of the old water mill. The first stop after leaving Hartford will be Dundee. From there it will go to Dundee, where it will cross Rough river. Leaving Dundee it will go to Mitchell's where it will join the L. H. & St. L., commonly known as the "Texas" road. The entire distance of the road will be fifty-five and a half miles. Nine passenger stations will be erected at the different stopping places, and the best of work will be required in its construction. It will be of great benefit to the section of country which it passes, and to Hartford, whose people have wanted a railroad so long.

The Size of the Army.

Louisville, Ky., June 16th. Friend Sterett—During the "Home-Coming" I heard several persons asking as to the size of the Drill Hall of the Army. I have made inquiry of the architect, who says the building entire is 301 by 966½ feet and the Drill Hall is 200 by 272 feet. Probably this may be of interest to your readers, who were here and inside the building.

Respectfully,
Wm. T. Saunders.—Claron.

Farmers Sell Wheat.

Boonville, Ind.—The wheat belonging to the farmers of the American Society of Equity has been sold. The farmers began to haul it in although not a word had been given out that it had been sold. Later it leaked out the Ballard & Ballard, of Louisville, Ky., were the purchasers, it being bought for that firm by Robert Richards, of the Hardy & company firm at Rockport. Garley Taylor, a prominent farmer living near Boonville, made the deal, but when asked the rice per bushel, he refused to answer. It is said that he received about 86 cents per bushel. Taylor is general superintendent and corresponding secretary of the society.

Possibilities of Dry Farming.

From John L. Cowan's "Dry Farming—the Hope of the West" in the July Century.

Estimates of the amount of land that can be reclaimed by irrigation vary all the way from 50,000,000 acres up to 125,000,000 acres, with the weight of authoritative opinion decidedly favoring the lower figure. Yet if 1 per cent. of the money now being expended for irrigation works were made available for the education of the people who ought to be interested in dry farming, it is probable that five hundred million acres of land—perhaps more than that—could be reclaimed in its present unproductive and comparatively worthless state just as rapidly as settlers, whether native born, or immigrants from foreign countries, could be taken to it.

SAUNDERS-

BRUMFIELD.

On June 19, Mr. Hewitt Brumfield and Miss Nora Saunders were quietly married at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Lewis near Stephentown, Ky., by Rev. M. W. Whayne of Arkansas.

Miss Saunders was one of Meade County's most accomplished young ladies. Mr. Brumfield is a prosperous young farmer of Breckenridge county. Only a few relatives and friends were present. The bride wore a beautiful white silk mill dress. The groom wore the conventional black. The bride's maid, Miss Bessie Hart, wore a lovely pink silk mill dress. The best man, Mr. John Hoover, was stylishly dressed in gray. The young couple received many beautiful and useful presents. They will make their home in Breckenridge county. May God's richest blessings attend them through life.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

Pe-ru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Pe-ru-na should be kept in the home all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Pe-ru-na on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Pe-ru-na has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Pe-ru-na, if taken according to printed directions, is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. It does not produce temporary results, but it is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

Mrs. F. Brockman, 513 Meade street, Appleton, Wis., writes:
"I have never had a return of the catarrh, which had made me so miserable and unhappy before I began taking Pe-ru-na."
"I would not be without it in the house, now."
"I have a baby boy, two years old, to whom I give Pe-ru-na for a cold, and my husband also takes Pe-ru-na."
"I thank you and wish you well."—Mrs. F. Brockman.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 27 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Pe-ru-na. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctored with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good."
"We gave up hope of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Pe-ru-na."

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him, so we tried Pe-ru-na as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

There are a multitude of homes where Pe-ru-na has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Pe-ru-na contained any narcotics.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Pe-ru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Pe-ru-na, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blasting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Pe-ru-na are speaking from their experience. These children brought up to believe in Pe-ru-na from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Pe-ru-na with unquestioning faith.

A Child's Life Saved.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong."

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Pe-ru-na, and we shall always praise Pe-ru-na and use it in our family when needed."

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."—G. H. Farmer.

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mother looks forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of her children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Pe-ru-na is the best friend she has in time of illness among the children.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Pe-ru-na is their standby, and that in many of the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Pe-ru-na is the remedy that will generally quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stom-ach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Pe-ru-na quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body. It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Every mother who has not tried Pe-ru-na in her family should familiarize herself with Dr. Hartman's booklet, The Ills of Life. This booklet should be in every family. It gives most valuable advice as to the use of Pe-ru-na for the various catarrhal diseases so general to-day.

Pe-ru-na is a household remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Pe-ru-na has.

The Mothers Hold Pe-ru-na in High Esteem.

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it promptly rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files many testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Pe-ru-na. However, a large majority of mothers who Pe-ru-na, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at a special good they have received Pe-ru-na that they can't restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.
